

National Partnership Manager

Volleyball New Zealand, Poirewa Aotearoa is the National Sports Organisation overseeing the growth and development of Volleyball across New Zealand.

Volleyball is experiencing strong growth particularly amongst rangatahi (young people) females, Maori and Pasifika.

Volleyball New Zealand is looking for a National Partnership Manager who will be the key interface for capability development with Volleyball New Zealand key stakeholders. This is a national leadership position and a senior role within Volleyball New Zealand with some travel required. The position may be based anywhere in New Zealand by agreement.

Key duties and tasks

Responsible for providing leadership, guidance and support to Volleyball New Zealand key community stakeholders.

Improve 'capability' across New Zealand whilst building and fostering relationships

Key point of contact for wider community stakeholders

Ensure Associations have the right tools and resources to accommodate the community's changing needs.

Empower leadership and develop capability to build sustainability and optimize community engagement.

Ensure strong Maori and Pasifika engagement and inclusion in capability development

Create a culture of collaboration, co-operation, teamwork and continuous improvement

The successful candidate does not need a strong knowledge of Volleyball, but it may be an advantage.

The National Partnership Manager is tasked with ensuring that the growth of volleyball across New Zealand is managed through strong and capable Associations and sustainable entities with strong community engagement.

Volleyball New Zealand is looking for a person with excellent leadership skills, strong relationship management and an ability to work across multi-ethnic communities.

Applications should be made through SEEK and close on December 16th at 5pm, although applications will be processed as received. Online interviews begin Dec 17 & 18. Start date would be late January. <https://www.seek.com.au/job/50990110?type=standard>